

Dear Teachers, Thank you for being faithful in your service at the frontline of all our Mission schools... Be assured that we are also faithfully serving beside and with you always. We Are ONE! God bless You.

Ucapan daripada Most Reverend Julian Leow, Uskup Agung Kuala Lumpur

No one had expected such a pandemic at the beginning of this year. No one was prepared for such an unprecedented time. Businesses, schools, factories, religious places and shops have to close. Billions of people are affected. Many are expecting a 'new normal'. What is this 'new normal'? How does it look like? What is the 'new normal' for schools?

We may have to expect when the schools are reopened, our students will experience a whole new orientation -- going to school with face-masks, sitting at least one meter apart, no more sports, no playing with fellow students during recess time, etc.

However, we thank God for the computers and internet services where study can continue even at home. I believe the 'new normal' will see students studying online a lot more but we still need teachers.

We praise God for our present teachers who will be the pioneers to lead the way forward for online study instead of classroom study. We have faith in them and will be praying for them all the time because our children are and will be their students.

May the good Lord continue to lead and bless all our teachers. Amen

Bishop Ng Moon Hing
Anglican Church, West Malaysia

We appreciate your kind efforts and commitment to the young under your care. We will certainly take upon ourselves this journey together with you which is full of joy and love but not without struggles and pain. This is a great challenge for all of us who want to do something for the young.

Greetings to All Our Teachers

Teachers' Day is a wonderful opportunity for us to say thank you and to express our deepest gratitude and heartfelt appreciation to our hardworking teachers. Often time, teachers remain "our unsung heroes" for the work that they do in creating a better world. Entrusted to their care are our young, our future and the tremendous responsibility of educating and nurturing our youth to be the best they can be and to take their place in society. I believe the teachers in our schools do more than impart knowledge and develop the mind, more importantly they also dedicate each and every day, every lesson, every encounter with their students to developing their hearts and souls and to "build God's Kingdom in the hearts of the students" in our schools. The Catholic Mission Authority thank you and will always support you and your noble endeavour. Please remember "Young people need good teachers, like visible angels." (St John Baptist de La Salle, Patron Saint of Teachers)

We wish you the very best in your Ministry and God Bless each and every one of you as you continue to touch hearts, teach minds and transform lives.

~ Archbishop Datuk John Wong, Archdiocese of Kota Kinabalu

A big thank you to all teachers for moulding all those under your care into persons of value in every way to the country and society at large.

Remember that we are always with you in this pursuit.

On this auspicious day, I would like to take this opportunity to thank everyone for being selfless, dedicated, hardworking and loving teachers. I want to encourage you to continue teaching the young generation with all your hearts, to instill in them all Godly values, to inspire and guide them to become good citizens of our beloved country.

HAPPY TEACHERS' DAY AND GOD BLESS!

"In this season of the COVID-19 pandemic, we celebrate all the more the good and enduring work of our "education front-liners", who have produced countless heroes in the front line of fighting this pandemic. It is a tribute to our teachers to see how excellently our current Director General of the Ministry of Health, Datuk Seri Dr. Noor Hisham Abdullah, an old boy of MBSS KL, rose to helm addressing this global and national mortal menace.

The Lord's "more than sufficient grace" empower you to make the necessary changes in the "new normal" in the crucial front line of education, for yet another season of "front line" contributions. We bless God for our teachers!"

Bishop Ong Hwai Teik
Methodist Church in Malaysia

To all our beloved Principals & Teachers,
My heartfelt appreciation for your dedication and sacrifices in educating and moulding our young people's characters, values and helping them to discover their potential.

Despite schools being closed and all other challenges, you find other means such as Google classroom, Zoom to coach your students in their learning because you know that your labour is not in vain. Kudos to you all. With all the uncertainties during this challenging time, may the peace of the Lord be with you.
Have a blessed Teachers' Day.

The Most Revd Datuk Melter Jiki Tais.

During these extraordinary times, we are witnessing unprecedented changes. We salute you teachers for rising up to the challenge of continuing learning at home. Your love and dedication is an inspiration to them. Keep it up.

LOVE AND PEACE TO YOU ALL

I have fond memories of my teachers. Some of their words of encouragement remain with me for life! They are like seeds that are planted in the good soil of my young heart and grow into big trees that give me strength. If I am given a choice of a few friends only, one of them will be a teacher!

Jesus Christ Is Sufficient For Each Day

In these unusual times of Movement Control Order we are learning what it means to be locked in, away from the usual crowds of students and staff in school, away from the shopping malls, away from the physical church buildings. And I hope, locked in with God.

For some of us, it has been a time of learning new things. Many of our teachers have become very adept with the computer because you wanted to keep in touch with your students and enable them to use the time profitably. You have kept busy designing lessons using the computer, setting homework and marking these assignments. You have been 'zooming' with your students and progressing with your syllabus. I was absolutely delighted when a friend introduced me to zoom and taught me how to use it. I have used it to teach my Bible Knowledge class and we have really enjoyed meeting around the study of Acts of the Apostles.

This partial lockdown has taught me to live a day at a time. A friend sent me a video clip of what green pastures really mean in Psalm 23. It does not mean a rich green meadow in Israel. It means a brown dry hill slope facing westwards to catch the little bit of rainfall from the Mediterranean Sea and the west wind that brings a little bit of humidity to the area. That is sufficient for little tufts of grass to grow in between rocks. Each tuft is just enough for sheep to have a mouthful of grass as they pass them. A few steps later they find another tuft of grass. Thus they will have the right amount to keep them going for the next day. The shepherd knows where to take the sheep to give them what they need. Please click on the video and be blessed by it. *

Thus, our Great Shepherd who loves us very dearly provides what we need each day. We will have sufficient for each day as we enter our classes to share His love with our students and fellow members of staff in the school. Whether in partial lockdown or back in school, our Lord Jesus Christ is our sufficiency!

HAPPY TEACHERS' DAY!
 Moey Yoke Lai

In this life, I am indebted to all my dearly beloved teachers. I can always remember all the efforts they put in primary school, in secondary school and the language teachers who had built my foundation in English and Chinese. Today, I can preach in English, I can preach in Chinese, Mandarin, I give credit to my language teachers. I really appreciate how they drilled me and trained me in the languages and I also appreciate other teachers for all their efforts in building, in setting this foundation for my lifetime of Ministry. Today, I am who I am, I give credit to them and give glory to God for all their efforts they had put in and I always remember what God had done through them to me and to all my classmates and schoolmates. ~ Rev Dr Tie King Tai, Methodist Sarawak

我感激每一位出现在我生命中的教師。我永遠記得他們无论是在我小学或中学的学习生涯所付出的努力，提供語言上的培訓和教导，為我的傳道生涯奠定了英語和华語的基礎，使我能以英語，中文以及普通話来传讲神的道。如今，我成了何等样的人，这都要归功于我的語言教師和其他教师们细心的栽培，我向他們的付出和努力表示感謝，並將荣耀归给上帝。我始終記得上帝如何透过教师们为我以及所有同學们所做的一切。
